FEEDBACK ANALYSIS REPORT

The Board of Studies was conducted for both undergraduate (UG) and postgraduate (PG) departments to discuss and finalize the structure and content of the UG and PG curriculum. During this revision of the syllabus, due consideration was given to the inputs received from various stakeholders involving students, alumni, academic peers, employers, and faculty.

- For all the programmes, the content of the language papers was passed and approved by the respective language boards.
- For all the programmes, Skill subjects offered for the first year students were reviewed and sanctioned.
- The contents of all major courses across all departments were presented and approved.
- Approval was also granted for allied subjects offered in various programmes.

Feedback from stakeholders, as outlined in the feedback analysis report, was incorporated into the respective courses. Approval was given for major subjects and allied subjects in these disciplines.

Resolutions from the PG board of studies across all departments underwent scrutiny and approval. The feedback received from students, alumni, faculty, academic peers, and employers guided further adjustments to the PG curriculum. Special consideration was given to develop the employability skills among the PG students during the curriculum revision.
