INTRODUCTION

The SHAPE is a holistic formation plan for the undergraduate students in Sacred Heart College. The Salesian System of Education has a unique way of mentoring, which is by accompanying the young by Salesians and teachers.

Faculty members play a crucial role in the success of students and at every stage of the student life. As followers of Don Bosco, the staff accompany the students by being present among them. The mentors direct their thoughts, words and deeds towards the positive development and reduce their attention towards the negative perspectives of life. Every mentor tries to lead the mentees to become good citizens of the Nation.

The SHAPE is not meant to create a kind of dependency of mentee on the mentor but it forms the faculty members to become experts in helping the young people to take responsibility for their own development in the following dimensions of growth: Physical, Intellectual, Psychological, Social, Spiritual and Skill development.

While styles of advising and mentoring vary across the disciplines, the fundamentals apply throughout graduate education. The following guidelines will be of help to the faculty members who seek to improve their effectiveness as mentors. We hope it is useful to those who assume the role of mentor and for those who have enjoyed success but are looking to become more skillful with a wider range of students.

THE MENTORING SYSTEM

The mentor is both a friend and a role model who supports and encourages a young person in his/her academic and personal growth. The mentor is also a guide who helps a young person make the difficult change from school to higher education. This time of transition is especially important, for it is a time when young people are making decisions about how much — or how little—they can expect to achieve.
